

Walk Gradings

Our social walks are graded in terms of both terrain and pace in order to give you a heads up of what you might expect on a particular walk.

In terms of terrain, an undulating walk is defined as an ascent of between $10 \mathrm{~m} / \mathrm{km}$ and $20 \mathrm{~m} / \mathrm{km}$ ( $50 \mathrm{ft} / \mathrm{mile}$ and $100 \mathrm{ft} / \mathrm{mile}$ ). A walk with less ascent would be classed as flat and one with more as hilly.

In terms of pace we have defined moderate as between $4 \mathrm{~km} / \mathrm{hr}$ and $5 \mathrm{~km} / \mathrm{hr}(2.5 \mathrm{mph}$ and 3.2 mph ). Slower than that would be seen as a relaxed pace, and faster as brisk.

Be rest assured though we would never leave anyone behind on a social walk, but hope that these gradings help manage expectations.

A word to walk leaders

If you are unsure of the amount of ascent on your walk (for example you don't have a GPX file of the route) then try to make a best estimate - overall, do you feel the route is predominantly flat with only a few, short 'ups' or are they there many ups and downs putting into the hilly category? If neither of these then you should grade it as undulating. If you feel its borderline then say so by grading it as say undulating/hilly or flat morning, hilly afternoon.
