REPORT Each year recently before I've set the routes, I've thought I won't be able to find a new one, but each year I've managed it and found 1 or 2 paths I didn't know myself. This year the Windmill and 4 Elms appeared for the 1st time together with paths to Lewes Hill. Oh! I think all the paths on the 10½ mile course had been used before. People liked the area and the paths, and the excellent weather.

got almost everyone back early. I had some complaints about lack of mud and I promise to try to better in future!

The clues were easy, apart from the gate by the gas tank. When I walked it out, I didn't spot the second one buried in the grass. I'd hoped some knowledgeable person would tell me the name of the 'Guildford in Bloom' flower, but there were no definitive replies. I had: buttercup, pansy, poppy, primrose, yellow rose, daffodil and dog rose. No gardeners go walking!

132 people took part this year with 98 finishing the 12½ mile route and 33 the 19½ miler. Ian Ditchfield was 1st back on the shorter route, but was just beaten on time by the 2nd finisher, William Brown. Mark Pickard was well ahead of everyone else on the longer course, but complained that he'd lost time in finding some of the clues! Other entrants enjoyed themselves in different ways, sampling some of the pubs 'hospitality', tho' I'm told the Four Elms is not to be recommended in that department. 6 people arrived just after I'd locked up and was taking my gear home, so I reopened to give them their certificates - no drinks, I'm afraid as I'd thrown the last away.

Can I thank very much helpers on the day - Peter Bull who did the morning before walking the short route, and Barbara Blatchford, who took time off from decorating to help; and Pat and Dave Challenger and Louise and Tony Cartwright, who all helped after doing the walk. Without you I would never have managed! Thanks also to St Catherines Village Hall Committee for hiring us such good facilities - and to the St Catherines residents coffee morning who were double booked with us in the morning and served coffee to a few entrants - and once again to Barratt's who allowed us use of their carpark for overflow parking and saved problems for local residents.

But, especially, thanks to you the participants, whose enjoyment makes the work so rewarding.

HOWEVER I DO NEED A VERY FEW VOLUNTEERS TO HELP ON THE DAY. IT CAN BE EITHER BEFORE OR AFTER THE WALK, BUT WITHOUT VOLUNTEERS, I SHALL BE FORCED TO STOP ORGANISING THIS. I FIND IT EMBARRASSING TO ASK THE SAME PEOPLE EVERY YEAR. PLEASE, IF YOU ENJOY THE EVENT, VOLUNTEER TO HELP ONE YEAR!
